

I'm Ioannis, a product management student who has spent thirteen years making complex services work.

Currently studying Product Management at Hyper Island, combining research, strategy, founder experience, and practical product development.

EMAIL

LINKEDIN

NOW & BEFORE

Now	Hyper Island ● Product Management student
2012 to 2025	Konduko AB Founder & CEO
2011 to now	NiyaCare Founder
1998 to 2011	Visual communication Design, projects & client work

SELECTED WORK

Products made by asking better questions.

Agent X

UX RESEARCH · CONCEPT · 2026

A diegetic companion for new Escape from Tarkov players, shaped through eight interviews, a research matrix, and four wireframe views.

Scribe

MACOS · WORKING APP · 2026

A meeting recorder that keeps processing local. It was built through specifications, AI agents, and manual verification. Even so, 283 passing tests missed four real defects.

Radio

IOS · WORKING BUILD · 2026

An internet radio player scoped, built, independently audited, and installed on a physical phone in one working day.

HOW I WORK

Clarity before polish.

Research before certainty

Interviews, synthesis, journey mapping, wireframes, and think aloud testing replace assumptions with something observable.

Comfort with complexity

Thirteen years in a regulated service business taught me to connect requirements, operations, stakeholders, and incomplete information.

Verification over theatre

I use AI tools every day and assume plausible output still needs checking. The audit is part of the product work.

FOUNDER EXPERIENCE

Thirteen years making services hold together.

KONDUKO AB · 2012 TO 2025

Founder & CEO

Built and led a specialist healthcare staffing company serving Swedish public healthcare. Designed the operating system connecting procurement, physician availability, contracts, schedules, invoicing, and quality control.

25+ public procurement contracts	140+ physicians on parallel assignments	All Swedish regions covered by frameworks
-------------------------------------	--	--

NIYACARE · 2011 TO PRESENT

Founder

A personal assistance company built around matching people with assistants they can rely on. Responsible for understanding individual needs, service quality, and daily operations.
It is where I learned what autonomy and trust actually require from a service. These are not abstract values. A person depends on them every day.

ABOUT

Research, founder judgement, and product thinking put to work on things that matter.

Before healthcare, I spent thirteen years in visual communication across design, project coordination, branding, packaging, and client work. I do not present that as a current design practice; it is the background that taught me to brief clearly and read a layout quickly.

Product Management · Hyper Island	Current
UX Design · Medieinstitutet	2026
Greek · English · Swedish	Native · Fluent · Fluent
German	Basic